

Celeste M. West
Vice President, Supply Chain Management

Celeste West is vice president of supply chain for Adventist Health System. She provides leadership and strategic direction for the supply chain functions throughout the system.

Previously, West served as an inside consultant for materials management travelling throughout the system assisting hospitals with their supply cost challenges, evaluating and establishing improvement plans for operational efficiency, covering vacant materials director positions, providing education, and implementing MMIS systems.

West received her Bachelor of Science degree from Kennesaw State University and is a certified CMRP through the American Hospital Association.