

Terry D. Shaw
Executive Vice President
Chief Financial Officer
Chief Operations Officer

Terry Shaw is executive vice president, chief financial officer, and chief operations officer for Adventist Health System. Prior to this appointment, Shaw served as senior vice president/ chief financial officer for the Florida Division of Adventist Health System. He also served in the following capacities within Florida Hospital: vice president, assistant vice president, and director of DRG Management.

Shaw received his bachelor of science degree in accounting and computer science from Southern Adventist University, and a master's degree in business administration from the University of Central Florida. He is a member of the Hospital Financial Management Association, the State of Texas Board of Certified Public Accountants and several other professional and service organizations.