

Michael Emmons
Vice President
Chief Technology Officer

---

Michael Emmons is vice president and chief technology officer for AHS Information Services, where he sets the strategy for hardware technology and oversees performance and acquisition.

Prior to joining AHS-IS in 2004, Emmons spent 15 years in healthcare management. Before entering the healthcare field, Emmons worked for major technology organizations such as IBM, Storage Technology and Raytheon. He has held multiple technology management roles and instructor positions, and also served in the US Navy Submarine Service.

Emmons has a bachelor of science degree in business administration with a major in finance from the University of Central Florida. He holds a number of industry certifications and serves on Dell's Platinum Advisory Council, AT&T's Healthcare Advisory Council and the HP Healthcare Board.